

PLENTY OF NATIVE POULTRY and Bermuda Vegetables

SOMERS

NOTICE

We, the undersigned, wish to announce to our patrons that owing to the continued advance in the cost of all materials used in carrying on the West Wash Laundry Business we find it absolutely impossible to maintain our usual high quality of work at the old price of 50c.

Rather than reduce the quality of work, the minimum price, on and after February 12th, 1917, will be 60c for the ordinary family wash of 35 pounds. Above that to 45 pounds, 75c, dry weight.

NEW SYSTEM WET WASH
NORWICH STEAM LAUNDRY
TAFTVILLE WET WASH
ROGERS DOMESTIC LAUNDRY
EAST SIDE LAUNDRY

Selling Out
OUR STOCK OF
DIAMONDS, WATCHES, CLOCKS, JEWELRY, SILVERWARE, ETC.
10 to 35 per cent off our regular low prices.

Entire stock MUST be sold by March 25th.
J. OGULNICK & CO.
52 Franklin Street Phone 714-12
"WONDERFUL BARGAINS"

The Chelsea Savings Bank
Norwich, Conn., Feb. 5, 1917.
The Board of Directors of the Bank have this day declared a dividend for the current six months at the rate of four per cent, per annum, payable on and after the fifteenth of March.

FRANK HEMPHREY, Treasurer.

FRISWELL'S
SPECIAL

A 21 Jewel High Grade adjusted to heat, cold and five positions, thin model, 12 or 16 size, in a guaranteed 20 year gold filled jointed case

$25

The Wm. Friswell Co.
25 and 27 Franklin St.

Ernest E. Bullard
VIOLIN
TEACHER

All String instruments repaired Violins sold on easy terms.
For appointments address E.
E. BULLARD, Bliss Place, Norwich, Conn.

LADIES!
We will cheerfully explain all about our JITNEY PLAN

It is a pleasing way to buy Jewelry, Watches, and Diamonds.

THE PLAUT-CADDENCO.
Established 1872.
PLAUT-CADDEN BUILDING

There is no advertising medium in Eastern Connecticut equal to The Bulletin for business results.

The Bulletin

Norwich, Saturday, Feb. 17, 1917.

VARIOUS MATTERS

Light all vehicle lamps at 5:45 Saturday evening.

The hickling had to grow and it is a good one, too.

Full line of meats at Church Bros.
Cheap for cash. No delivery—adv.

Tonight, T. A. B. Hall, at A. A. G.
S. Girls' Minstrel Show—adv.

Few people realize the hardships of the R. F. D. carrier these cold days with roads filled with unbroken ruts.

The twenty-fourth Continental Congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution is to be held in Washington in April.

In Bridgeport, Hartford, New Britain, Hartford and Waterbury, a total of 133,676 men and 37,441 women are employed in factories.

Temptation is always staring one in the face. For instance, there's these skin things that youngsters have made on many a sidewalk.

Tonight, T. A. B. Hall, at A. A. G.
S. Girls' Minstrel Show—adv.

There are now seventy-four licensed dog kennels in the state and sheep growers are urging for regulation of the dog and sheep business.

Nearly 200 of the 225 manufacturers of Bridgeport stand ready to place their factories at the disposal of government contracts in the event of war.

Shares of the New York New Haven and Hartford company were sold in the New York stock market yesterday at $37.50, the lowest price in its history.

Special meeting of K. of C. Sunday, at 8 p. m. First and second degree—adv.

Friday was held to be a nice warm day in comparison with the preceding quartets of days, yet while the high sun shined brightly, a little bit of frost was in the shade.

The U. S. Navy Recruiting stations are doing a rushing business these days and many young men are taking advantage of the great opportunities the U. S. navy is now offering.

First time in Norwich, Mrs. Norris, psychic and test medium at Spiritual Academy, Sunday—adv.

Stonington will hold a special town meeting next week Wednesday for the purpose of taking action regarding accepting state aid for the building of a piece of cement road in Pawcatuck.

Secretary Joseph Daniels of the navy this week assured Congressmen Thompson and Sherman that the Harbor light, off the New London harbor light, will be protected as well as the harbor.

Personal taxes will be collected Saturday at the People's Store, Taftville, from 12 m. to 2:30 p. m.—adv.

For several days Best View has been cut off from its regular water supply because of frozen pipes connecting with the city water main. The water stream in several days was pumped through Thursday.

Principal Walter E. Hammond of the Olivet, Mo., conference, president of inaugurating a Boy Scout troop for Myrtle and the success of the movement under the leadership of Hammond seems assured.

Life of Lincoln illustrated by 70 slides at Y. M. C. A. Sunday at 2:30.
Men and women invited. Swann's orchestra.

Probably 50,000 people die yearly in the United States from preventable causes; also something like 2 per cent of the population is disabled from sickness at any given time, and a large part of this is preventable.

The auxiliary schooner yacht Crusar II has been sold by Edwin Palmer of the Pequot summer colony to the Italian government, which will convert the yacht, well known to New London waters, into a gunboat.

Wanted, 200 men and boys to take away St. Overcoats and Pants at less than cost at Branch Bros' store on the square—adv.

The report of the State Department of Factory Inspection for 1916, made to the governor, shows that, during the year, 1,000 factories and employment offices were inspected, having 329,897 employees, of whom 244,616 were men.

All New London Boy Scout troops, five Norwich troops, one Quaker Hill troop and a Groton troop will participate in the Scout rally Saturday evening. The rally will be preceded by a parade of all the Scouts at 7 o'clock.

Charity Bazaar by Catholic Women's club at the Olivet, Mo., conference Tuesday evenings, Feb. 19 and 20. Entertainment each evening—adv.

A total of 2,001 deer have been killed in this state since Aug. 1, 1915, when the present law went into effect, according to the figures of the department of the game and commissioner of the game.

The ice on the rivers makes it difficult to gather the wild crop. The ice is very scarce and high in price.
In former years the rivers would be checked with holes cut in the ice.
At times a lucky spot is found where many pounds are secured.

The last chance to get clothing and furnishings at less than cost is at the Branch Bros' store on the square.
Everything must be cleared out by Tuesday. This is positively the last Saturday. Don't miss it—adv.

Commanding officers of various units of the Connecticut National Guard are wondering how soon the Federal authorities will take up the question of settlement with them for property which they were responsible for and pay the money now due them.

The following officers of the Connecticut National Guard have been elected: President, Arthur L. Reed; vice president, H. Bertram Pomeroy; secretary, M. J. P. Haver; treasurer, Wm. S. Haven; general superintendent, H. Bertram Pomeroy.

One of that class of automobilists, the members of which think pedestrians should be equipped with wings, when they hear the honk! honk! was much pained on a Broadway crosswalk Friday afternoon, when the tooling did not have the desired effect causing the driver to stop his car to avoid hitting the person.

Rev. Dr. Irving H. Berg has been requested by Governor Marcus H. Holcomb to speak in various places in the state on the subject of the pending census and preparedness and as such work would have many demands upon his time he has, with the sanction of the governor and of Colonel Rich-

PERSONALS

Alvin Crowley of Moosup, was in Norwich recently to see his father, who is a patient at Backus hospital.

Miss Katharine McCone of Pratt street is spending the week end with Miss Harriet M. Sullivan of South Manchester.

Miss Alice Barry, Elsie Adams, Louise O'Brien, have returned from Hartford, where they were the guests of friends. While in Hartford they attended the Moore ball.

Miss Katherine Thrope of Hickory street is spending a week in Bridgeport as the guest of Miss Florence Fry, while under her will attend the Seaside Institute ball.

OBITUARY.

Miss Sarah Huntington Perkins.

(Contributed.)
On the morning of Feb. 14, 1917, Miss Sarah Huntington Perkins, a lifelong resident of Norwich, passed from the earthly to the heavenly home. She was born on Feb. 7th, 1841, in Norwich, where for the last 20 years she had resided. For year or more she had felt the increasing limitations of age, but despite the confinement for months to her room she maintained to the last the cheerful spirit that had through life uniformly characterized her. She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church and was passionately devoted to her family and to her friends.

Miss Perkins was the daughter of George and Maria Perkins, the former of whom was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church. She was born in this city. She was the granddaughter of Gen. Ebenezer Huntington and for some years made her home with her aunt, the Ladies Huntington, in the old Huntington homestead.
She was proud that she could trace her ancestry back to the earliest beginnings of Norwich. She obtained her education in private and public schools and was a member of the first class of the first graduating class of the Norwich Free Academy. Her education was supplemented by travel in the West.
She journeyed to Minnesota in one of the first through sleepers from New York.

Miss Perkins' affections centered largely in the church of which she was a member. During her life she was active in the church and was a member of the church in the earlier years of her life that relationship was mainly with the church and the church.

Not for a moment was she ever
latterly, and for almost exactly half
of her life she was a member of the Congregational church, Norwich Town.
Miss Perkins was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church in many directions quite up to the limit of her means. Not a few individuals as well as local institutions and mission
societies enjoyed the material evidence of her generosity. She was a woman who loved much and was loved
by all who knew her. Retiring in disposition almost to the point of difficulty, she was a woman of deep sympathies, thought clearly and expressed herself positively. She was a woman
of deep religious convictions and was a member of the church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means.

Not for a moment was she ever
latterly, and for almost exactly half
of her life she was a member of the
Congregational church, Norwich Town.
Miss Perkins was a member of the
Methodist Episcopal church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means. Not a few individuals as well
as local institutions and mission
societies enjoyed the material evi-
dence of her generosity. She was a
woman who loved much and was loved
by all who knew her. Retiring in dis-
position almost to the point of diffi-
culty, she was a woman of deep sym-
pathies, thought clearly and expressed
herself positively. She was a woman
of deep religious convictions and was
a member of the church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means.

Not for a moment was she ever
latterly, and for almost exactly half
of her life she was a member of the
Congregational church, Norwich Town.
Miss Perkins was a member of the
Methodist Episcopal church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means. Not a few individuals as well
as local institutions and mission
societies enjoyed the material evi-
dence of her generosity. She was a
woman who loved much and was loved
by all who knew her. Retiring in dis-
position almost to the point of diffi-
culty, she was a woman of deep sym-
pathies, thought clearly and expressed
herself positively. She was a woman
of deep religious convictions and was
a member of the church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means.

Not for a moment was she ever
latterly, and for almost exactly half
of her life she was a member of the
Congregational church, Norwich Town.
Miss Perkins was a member of the
Methodist Episcopal church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means. Not a few individuals as well
as local institutions and mission
societies enjoyed the material evi-
dence of her generosity. She was a
woman who loved much and was loved
by all who knew her. Retiring in dis-
position almost to the point of diffi-
culty, she was a woman of deep sym-
pathies, thought clearly and expressed
herself positively. She was a woman
of deep religious convictions and was
a member of the church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means.

Not for a moment was she ever
latterly, and for almost exactly half
of her life she was a member of the
Congregational church, Norwich Town.
Miss Perkins was a member of the
Methodist Episcopal church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means. Not a few individuals as well
as local institutions and mission
societies enjoyed the material evi-
dence of her generosity. She was a
woman who loved much and was loved
by all who knew her. Retiring in dis-
position almost to the point of diffi-
culty, she was a woman of deep sym-
pathies, thought clearly and expressed
herself positively. She was a woman
of deep religious convictions and was
a member of the church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means.

Not for a moment was she ever
latterly, and for almost exactly half
of her life she was a member of the
Congregational church, Norwich Town.
Miss Perkins was a member of the
Methodist Episcopal church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means. Not a few individuals as well
as local institutions and mission
societies enjoyed the material evi-
dence of her generosity. She was a
woman who loved much and was loved
by all who knew her. Retiring in dis-
position almost to the point of diffi-
culty, she was a woman of deep sym-
pathies, thought clearly and expressed
herself positively. She was a woman
of deep religious convictions and was
a member of the church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means.

Not for a moment was she ever
latterly, and for almost exactly half
of her life she was a member of the Congregational church, Norwich Town.
Miss Perkins was a member of the
Methodist Episcopal church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means. Not a few individuals as well
as local institutions and mission
societies enjoyed the material evi-
dence of her generosity. She was a
woman who loved much and was loved
by all who knew her. Retiring in dis-
position almost to the point of diffi-
culty, she was a woman of deep sym-
pathies, thought clearly and expressed
herself positively. She was a woman
of deep religious convictions and was
a member of the church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means.

Not for a moment was she ever
latterly, and for almost exactly half
of her life she was a member of the Congregational church, Norwich Town.
Miss Perkins was a member of the
Methodist Episcopal church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means. Not a few individuals as well
as local institutions and mission
societies enjoyed the material evi-
dence of her generosity. She was a
woman who loved much and was loved
by all who knew her. Retiring in dis-
position almost to the point of diffi-
culty, she was a woman of deep sym-
pathies, thought clearly and expressed
herself positively. She was a woman
of deep religious convictions and was
a member of the church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means.

Not for a moment was she ever
latterly, and for almost exactly half
of her life she was a member of the Congregational church, Norwich Town.
Miss Perkins was a member of the
Methodist Episcopal church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means. Not a few individuals as well
as local institutions and mission
societies enjoyed the material evi-
dence of her generosity. She was a
woman who loved much and was loved
by all who knew her. Retiring in dis-
position almost to the point of diffi-
culty, she was a woman of deep sym-
pathies, thought clearly and expressed
herself positively. She was a woman
of deep religious convictions and was
a member of the church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means.

Not for a moment was she ever
latterly, and for almost exactly half
of her life she was a member of the Congregational church, Norwich Town.
Miss Perkins was a member of the
Methodist Episcopal church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means. Not a few individuals as well
as local institutions and mission
societies enjoyed the material evi-
dence of her generosity. She was a
woman who loved much and was loved
by all who knew her. Retiring in dis-
position almost to the point of diffi-
culty, she was a woman of deep sym-
pathies, thought clearly and expressed
herself positively. She was a woman
of deep religious convictions and was
a member of the church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means.

Not for a moment was she ever
latterly, and for almost exactly half
of her life she was a member of the Congregational church, Norwich Town.
Miss Perkins was a member of the
Methodist Episcopal church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means. Not a few individuals as well
as local institutions and mission
societies enjoyed the material evi-
dence of her generosity. She was a
woman who loved much and was loved
by all who knew her. Retiring in dis-
position almost to the point of diffi-
culty, she was a woman of deep sym-
pathies, thought clearly and expressed
herself positively. She was a woman
of deep religious convictions and was
a member of the church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means.

Not for a moment was she ever
latterly, and for almost exactly half
of her life she was a member of the Congregational church, Norwich Town.
Miss Perkins was a member of the
Methodist Episcopal church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means. Not a few individuals as well
as local institutions and mission
societies enjoyed the material evi-
dence of her generosity. She was a
woman who loved much and was loved
by all who knew her. Retiring in dis-
position almost to the point of diffi-
culty, she was a woman of deep sym-
pathies, thought clearly and expressed
herself positively. She was a woman
of deep religious convictions and was
a member of the church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means.

Not for a moment was she ever
latterly, and for almost exactly half
of her life she was a member of the Congregational church, Norwich Town.
Miss Perkins was a member of the
Methodist Episcopal church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means. Not a few individuals as well
as local institutions and mission
societies enjoyed the material evi-
dence of her generosity. She was a
woman who loved much and was loved
by all who knew her. Retiring in dis-
position almost to the point of diffi-
culty, she was a woman of deep sym-
pathies, thought clearly and expressed
herself positively. She was a woman
of deep religious convictions and was
a member of the church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means.

Not for a moment was she ever
latterly, and for almost exactly half
of her life she was a member of the Congregational church, Norwich Town.
Miss Perkins was a member of the
Methodist Episcopal church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means. Not a few individuals as well
as local institutions and mission
societies enjoyed the material evi-
dence of her generosity. She was a
woman who loved much and was loved
by all who knew her. Retiring in dis-
position almost to the point of diffi-
culty, she was a woman of deep sym-
pathies, thought clearly and expressed
herself positively. She was a woman
of deep religious convictions and was
a member of the church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means.

Not for a moment was she ever
latterly, and for almost exactly half
of her life she was a member of the Congregational church, Norwich Town.
Miss Perkins was a member of the
Methodist Episcopal church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means. Not a few individuals as well
as local institutions and mission
societies enjoyed the material evi-
dence of her generosity. She was a
woman who loved much and was loved
by all who knew her. Retiring in dis-
position almost to the point of diffi-
culty, she was a woman of deep sym-
pathies, thought clearly and expressed
herself positively. She was a woman
of deep religious convictions and was
a member of the church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means.

Not for a moment was she ever
latterly, and for almost exactly half
of her life she was a member of the Congregational church, Norwich Town.
Miss Perkins was a member of the
Methodist Episcopal church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means. Not a few individuals as well
as local institutions and mission
societies enjoyed the material evi-
dence of her generosity. She was a
woman who loved much and was loved
by all who knew her. Retiring in dis-
position almost to the point of diffi-
culty, she was a woman of deep sym-
pathies, thought clearly and expressed
herself positively. She was a woman
of deep religious convictions and was
a member of the church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means.

Not for a moment was she ever
latterly, and for almost exactly half
of her life she was a member of the Congregational church, Norwich Town.
Miss Perkins was a member of the
Methodist Episcopal church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means. Not a few individuals as well
as local institutions and mission
societies enjoyed the material evi-
dence of her generosity. She was a
woman who loved much and was loved
by all who knew her. Retiring in dis-
position almost to the point of diffi-
culty, she was a woman of deep sym-
pathies, thought clearly and expressed
herself positively. She was a woman
of deep religious convictions and was
a member of the church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means.

Not for a moment was she ever
latterly, and for almost exactly half
of her life she was a member of the Congregational church, Norwich Town.
Miss Perkins was a member of the
Methodist Episcopal church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means. Not a few individuals as well
as local institutions and mission
societies enjoyed the material evi-
dence of her generosity. She was a
woman who loved much and was loved
by all who knew her. Retiring in dis-
position almost to the point of diffi-
culty, she was a woman of deep sym-
pathies, thought clearly and expressed
herself positively. She was a woman
of deep religious convictions and was
a member of the church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means.

Not for a moment was she ever
latterly, and for almost exactly half
of her life she was a member of the Congregational church, Norwich Town.
Miss Perkins was a member of the
Methodist Episcopal church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means. Not a few individuals as well
as local institutions and mission
societies enjoyed the material evi-
dence of her generosity. She was a
woman who loved much and was loved
by all who knew her. Retiring in dis-
position almost to the point of diffi-
culty, she was a woman of deep sym-
pathies, thought clearly and expressed
herself positively. She was a woman
of deep religious convictions and was
a member of the church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means.

Not for a moment was she ever
latterly, and for almost exactly half
of her life she was a member of the Congregational church, Norwich Town.
Miss Perkins was a member of the
Methodist Episcopal church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means. Not a few individuals as well
as local institutions and mission
societies enjoyed the material evi-
dence of her generosity. She was a
woman who loved much and was loved
by all who knew her. Retiring in dis-
position almost to the point of diffi-
culty, she was a woman of deep sym-
pathies, thought clearly and expressed
herself positively. She was a woman
of deep religious convictions and was
a member of the church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means.

Not for a moment was she ever
latterly, and for almost exactly half
of her life she was a member of the Congregational church, Norwich Town.
Miss Perkins was a member of the
Methodist Episcopal church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means. Not a few individuals as well
as local institutions and mission
societies enjoyed the material evi-
dence of her generosity. She was a
woman who loved much and was loved
by all who knew her. Retiring in dis-
position almost to the point of diffi-
culty, she was a woman of deep sym-
pathies, thought clearly and expressed
herself positively. She was a woman
of deep religious convictions and was
a member of the church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means.

Not for a moment was she ever
latterly, and for almost exactly half
of her life she was a member of the Congregational church, Norwich Town.
Miss Perkins was a member of the
Methodist Episcopal church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means. Not a few individuals as well
as local institutions and mission
societies enjoyed the material evi-
dence of her generosity. She was a
woman who loved much and was loved
by all who knew her. Retiring in dis-
position almost to the point of diffi-
culty, she was a woman of deep sym-
pathies, thought clearly and expressed
herself positively. She was a woman
of deep religious convictions and was
a member of the church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means.

Not for a moment was she ever
latterly, and for almost exactly half
of her life she was a member of the Congregational church, Norwich Town.
Miss Perkins was a member of the
Methodist Episcopal church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means. Not a few individuals as well
as local institutions and mission
societies enjoyed the material evi-
dence of her generosity. She was a
woman who loved much and was loved
by all who knew her. Retiring in dis-
position almost to the point of diffi-
culty, she was a woman of deep sym-
pathies, thought clearly and expressed
herself positively. She was a woman
of deep religious convictions and was
a member of the church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means.

Not for a moment was she ever
latterly, and for almost exactly half
of her life she was a member of the Congregational church, Norwich Town.
Miss Perkins was a member of the
Methodist Episcopal church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means. Not a few individuals as well
as local institutions and mission
societies enjoyed the material evi-
dence of her generosity. She was a
woman who loved much and was loved
by all who knew her. Retiring in dis-
position almost to the point of diffi-
culty, she was a woman of deep sym-
pathies, thought clearly and expressed
herself positively. She was a woman
of deep religious convictions and was
a member of the church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means.

Not for a moment was she ever
latterly, and for almost exactly half
of her life she was a member of the Congregational church, Norwich Town.
Miss Perkins was a member of the
Methodist Episcopal church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means. Not a few individuals as well
as local institutions and mission
societies enjoyed the material evi-
dence of her generosity. She was a
woman who loved much and was loved
by all who knew her. Retiring in dis-
position almost to the point of diffi-
culty, she was a woman of deep sym-
pathies, thought clearly and expressed
herself positively. She was a woman
of deep religious convictions and was
a member of the church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means.

Not for a moment was she ever
latterly, and for almost exactly half
of her life she was a member of the Congregational church, Norwich Town.
Miss Perkins was a member of the
Methodist Episcopal church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means. Not a few individuals as well
as local institutions and mission
societies enjoyed the material evi-
dence of her generosity. She was a
woman who loved much and was loved
by all who knew her. Retiring in dis-
position almost to the point of diffi-
culty, she was a woman of deep sym-
pathies, thought clearly and expressed
herself positively. She was a woman
of deep religious convictions and was
a member of the church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means.

Not for a moment was she ever
latterly, and for almost exactly half
of her life she was a member of the Congregational church, Norwich Town.
Miss Perkins was a member of the
Methodist Episcopal church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means. Not a few individuals as well
as local institutions and mission
societies enjoyed the material evi-
dence of her generosity. She was a
woman who loved much and was loved
by all who knew her. Retiring in dis-
position almost to the point of diffi-
culty, she was a woman of deep sym-
pathies, thought clearly and expressed
herself positively. She was a woman
of deep religious convictions and was
a member of the church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means.

Not for a moment was she ever
latterly, and for almost exactly half
of her life she was a member of the Congregational church, Norwich Town.
Miss Perkins was a member of the
Methodist Episcopal church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means. Not a few individuals as well
as local institutions and mission
societies enjoyed the material evi-
dence of her generosity. She was a
woman who loved much and was loved
by all who knew her. Retiring in dis-
position almost to the point of diffi-
culty, she was a woman of deep sym-
pathies, thought clearly and expressed
herself positively. She was a woman
of deep religious convictions and was
a member of the church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means.

Not for a moment was she ever
latterly, and for almost exactly half
of her life she was a member of the Congregational church, Norwich Town.
Miss Perkins was a member of the
Methodist Episcopal church in many
directions quite up to the limit of her
means. Not a few individuals as well
as local institutions and mission
societies enjoyed the material evi-
dence of her generosity. She was a
woman who loved much and was loved
by all who knew her. Retiring in dis-
position almost to the point of diffi-